Direct Deposit Information Form

Dear Member,

You can set up Direct Deposit to your Credit Union account from any employer! Your payroll deduction will be deposited into the Credit Union's Direct Deposit checking account at bankHometown and then transferred to your Credit Union account.

Use the banking information below to give to your new employer's payroll department. Afterwards, please notify the Credit Union of the name of your new employer, the amount to be deposited to shares and/or club accounts and whether your payroll is weekly or bi-weekly (or other).

If Direct Deposit is not available to you, please contact us for other convenient deposit options - especially regarding loan payments.

 bankHometown Routing Number: 211371926

Checking Account Number for NE CT Healthcare Credit Union: 72 424 6
